Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in Economics of Globalisation and European Integration

A 2-year study programme for a Global Career

Why choosing EGEI?

Are you interested in research, a job in government, an international organization or research and strategy department then it's a good idea to choose for this 2-year master's degree programme in economics.

When you complete this study successfully, you earn the Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in Economics of Globalisation and European Integration. The diplomas are awarded jointly by all the partner universities. Since 2020 the Master has been selected by the European Commission as an Erasmus Mundus Master's Course.

Programme

- The master's program has a workload of 120 ECTS credits: a taught part of 90 credits, an internship of 10 credits and a dissertation of 20 credits.
- The study program is full-time and runs over 24 months. It is taught by staff of the eight partner institutions and by high-profile visiting scholars. During the 2-years students move as a group to at least three different universities in three different countries.

- Final dissertation (20 credits)

How to apply?

- Diploma: you have earned 180 ECTS credits in an economics or applied economics university study programme, or you have a bachelor's degree considered equivalent by the Joint Studies Board.
- If you are in the final year of your academic programme, you should submit an official letter in English from your university confirming that you are expected to finalise your degree at the end of the current academic year, and submit up-to-date authenticated transcripts of results for each year of study.
- English: when you have studied at one of the partner universities your English skills are checked by the local academic coordinator. Students from other universities should submit proof of an internet-based TOEFL level of minimum 90 (or its equivalent in another TOEFL score system), or an IELTS grade of least 6.5, or submit proof of having studied at least one academic year in an English-language programme.
- Selection: the selection criteria are common to all students and primarily related to study results. Deadline: you must complete and submit the on-line application form. The last application deadline is end of march 2026 if you need a visa or end of may if you don't.

For those who want to apply for a full tuition fee waiver based on merit the deadline is 15 February 2026.

- Tuition fees: 2,500 euros per year for students from Erasmus+ programme countries (all EU and European Economic Area) and 8,000 euros per year for students from Erasmus+ partner countries (non-European countries).
- 6 Full Tuition Fees waivers are available. All students enrolled will be eligible for an Erasmus Student Mobility grants.

Students will enroll at University of Bari (coordination institution) and acquire the status of students in all partner universities involved in their mobility path.

A limited number of tuition discounts are available for non-scholarship students from developing countries on the basis of academic merit. Other forms of financial support might be available. For more information, please consult the EGEI website (www.master-egei.eu).

In addition to tuition fees, students should also budget for travel, accommodation, food and study materials.
